EARTH IS BEING WORN AWAY

Surface of Country Is Removed at Rate of an Inch Every 760 Years.

Because of the erosions of numerous drainage basins of the United States the surface of the country is being removed at the average rate of an inch in every 760 years. That is rather comfortable to know. It will take a great many years before the land is again sunk beneath the ocean. The geological survey is sponsor for this information.

It says additionally that, although the amount may appear trivial, it is stupendous when considered as a total. The Mississippi river carries annually to the sea 136,400,000 tons of dissolved matter and 340,500,000 tons of suspended matter, and of this total the Ohio river carries 83, 350,000 tons and the Missouri river twice as much. The Colorado river, which has built up for itself a vast delta, brings down more suspended matter than any other river in the United States, delivering annually 387 tons for each square mile of its drainage basin, or a total of 100, 740,000 tons.

The rivers of the United States carry to tidewater every year 270, 000,000 tons of dissolved matter and 513,000,000 tons of suspended matter. This total of 783,000,000 tons represents more than 350,000,000 cubic yards of rock, or 610,000,000 yards of surface soil. If this erosive action, says the geological survey, had been concentrated on the Isthmus of Panama at the time of the American occupation, it would have excavated the prism for an 85-foot level canal in 73 days.

HEN NOW IS A FINANCIER

Realizing the Value of Her Product, She Is "Skimping" the Size of Eggs.

It seems that our old friend, the hen, is being charged with skimping the size of her eggs. All of which confirms the discoveries made by an ordinary pleb freshman at the University of Kansas. He has laid aside the classics and gone in for poultry psychology. If the hen is guilty, as charged, of reducing the size of her packages for the market, she shows that fine mentality called "the financier's view." She is in touch with the best commercial thought of the day. Behold the manufacturers of our breakfast food, how in times when people were becoming accustomed to paying more for everything, they reduced the size of their original packages; behold, likewise, the man who makes our cloth, how he has reduced the number of threads from 64 to 56, and the man who ounce by ounce has reduced our loaf to only an emaciated shadow of its former self! Is not, indeed, the hen "wise"?—Indianapolis

HISTORY OF POLO.

Polo is the most ancient of all games with stick and ball, and probably hockey, golf and cricket are but modifications of it. The earliest records of the game are Persian, and date back six hundred years before Christ. In India it seems to have been known for centuries before the British occupation, but it rose into favor only some half a century ago, when the English residents began to practice it. The game was introduced into England by the officers of the Tenth Hussars about 1863, but at that time the players used hockey sticks and billiard balls. It was John Watson, of the Thirteenth Hussars, who drew up the rules and regulations which changed polo from a wild, skill-less game into a scientific sport.

SPARROWS FIGHT STUFFED OWL

A stuffed owl that sits as sentinel above a row of stuffed sparrows in the office of John B. Doolin, state fish and game warden, became the target for an attack of live sparrows that flew in at the window during the absence of the warden and his employees.

When they returned the owl was pretty badly done up, his feathers littering the floor beneath his perch.

The fighting birds were separated and ejected with some difficulty.—

WHERE THE TROUBLE LIES.

Old Emdee (sternly)—Don't you like your profession, sir?
Young Emdee—The profession is all right, but the trouble lies in the fact that I am not the only one who likes it.
